Although the figures in columns 1-3 are rounded, markets are ranked on actual, rather than rounded, affordability numbers. All reported housing cost figures are a percentage of local market family household income. See source for an explanation of the methodology and data sources.

1/ Tax considerations (i.e., federal and state mortgage interest deductions and local property taxes) were accounted for in the calculation of home ownership costs. The cost of the down payment and maintenance expenses were excluded, however. Rochester, Wis.-based Runzheimer International provided local property tax rates used in this study.
